InHabit

We live in a world that is better connected than ever before. People are longing to feel like they belong, that their voice is heard and that they fill a significant space in the global village.

This September, the Pretoria HOMEMAKERS Expo will connect visitors with the products and services that help them own their space. InHabit is about improving the way people live in their homes and how they connect with everything around them. This includes environmental sustainability, story sharing, supporting local businesses and being better informed about product origins.

The 2020 Pretoria HOMEMAKERS Expo will once again give visitors the chance to see, touch, feel and compare the latest home products and services.

It's an opportunity to do more than merely occupy a space, it's about developing a lifestyle where people truly InHabit spaces and boldly connect with those around them.

Show features include:

Collective Theatre

The Collective Theatre is a place where visitors can connect with craftsmen and home improvement experts. Ask questions, partake in fun DIY demos and get personalised tips.

Designer Spaces

Be inspired by authentic African design styles. Local interior designers will be given the challenge to create a space that celebrates design from across the continent. In this demo space visitors will see what the chosen interior designers have created and be able to ask questions on how to incorporate their favourite style into their home.

Truly Artisan

Truly Artisan is a must for visitors looking to add the latest, custom-made products to their home. It's a treasure trove of artworks, cutting edge furniture and lighting designs, collector's items, handcrafted decor pieces and natural products.

D'Vine Life

Indulge in something different at D'Vine Life. Come snack or lunchtime, this foodie haven will have visitors spoilt for choice. Choices include everything from gourmet sushi, towering burgers and homemade curries to biltong, cakes and ice-cream.
